MANHATTAN AND THE BRONX. An Investigator Finds Many Homes Offered for Sale.

To The New York Herald: I note the letter from Ferdinand Fish regarding the housing situation. He says in support of the general contention that the one thing standing in the way of house building on a large scale in the vicinity of New York is the lack of money or the difficulty of obtaining loans that it is his belief that "if a loans that bean at the loans of national commerce to make this authors that the sauthor that the sauthor that the sauthor that the leatentha
